Keep Your Smiles Bright & Healthy

Regular dental care is one of the most important ways to protect the smiles you love. But the cost of today's dental care can quickly add up. That's why your employer has added dental insurance from Nippon Life Benefits to your employee benefit package.

Adding dental coverage to your benefits can pay off in two ways:

- 1. You will get preventive care benefits for regular exams, cleanings, fluoride treatments, sealants and x-rays – all working together to help keep your teeth in tip-top shape.
- 2. Then, if something goes wrong, you'll have additional benefits to help cover the costs for crowns, oral surgery, implants, fillings, dentures, bridges, and more.

Plus, the plan's exceptional network gives you a wide choice of highly-respected dentists – each delivering great dental care at special discounts. Want to find out if your dentist is included in our network? Go to Nippon Life Benefits' Provider Search page.

Saving Your Smile & Your Budget

With the average cost of a dental visit hovering around $600¹, many people put off dental care because they are worried about expensive bills.² But studies have proven there's a tie between taking care of your teeth and taking care of your overall health.

Diseases like diabetes, heart disease, complications of pregnancy, pneumonia and certain cancers have been tied to gum disease and poor oral health.³ As a result, it just makes sense to take good care of your smile.
